EXPLANATION OF BLEED

If any part of the image on your document layout makes contact with the document border you will have to use bleed. We recommend at least 3mm.

Example with Partial Bleed

Example with Full Bleed

Example of what the job will look like once trimmed

Orange dotted lines depict your document size and where the paper will be cut, the image overlaps the edge of the document to give space for bleed. This Alleviates any possibility of the white of the paper edge showing after being trimmed.
